One continent, many countries, countless cultures. From university study in South Africa or Ghana to field research in Equatorial Guinea, Tanzania, or Madagascar, a wide range of options awaits you. Intern with development organizations, study global health, examine post-conflict resolution, or explore music and the arts. Study abroad in Africa takes many forms. Stretch yourself, and be stretched.